Belgium

Jen-min Jih-pao Editorial:

There have always been friendly feelings between the people of China and Belgium. The relations between the two countries based on the five principles of peaceful co-existence and their economic contacts have made gratifying developments since the establishment of diplomatic relations between the two countries. Prime Minister Tindemans shows a positive attitude toward developing the relations between China and Belgium, and his current visit to China will certainly increase the friendship between the two peoples and promote the further development of the relations between the two countries. We wish the distinguished Belgian guests success on their visit.

("Jen-min Jih-pao Editorial Warmly Welcomes Distinguished Belgian Guests," NCNA-English, Peking, April 18, 1975 -- SPRCP 75-18/117-118)

*

Chi Teng-kuei, Vice Premier:

The Chinese and Belgian peoples have always been friendly to each other. Since the establishment of diplomatic relations in 1971, trade, cultural, scientific and technological exchanges between China and Belgium have gradually expanded thanks to the joint efforts of both sides. This meets the desire and interests of both our peoples. The current visit of Prime Minister Tindemans to China has opened a new chapter in the development of the relations between our two countries. Although China and Belgium have different social systems, both sides have the desire to develop mutual relations on the basis of the five principles of peaceful co-existence. Therefore, we are convined that your visit, Mr. Prime Minister, will help increase mutual understanding and further advance the relations between our two countries.

Guyana

Jen-min Jih-pao Editorial:

Both China and Guyana are developing countries belonging to the third world. In the common struggle against imperialism and hegemonism, the people of our two countreis have encouraged and supported each other, and have forged a profound friendship between them. We note with pleasure that the friendly relations and cooperation between China and Guyana have developed satisfactorily since the establishment of diplomatic relations between the two countries. We are deeply convinced that the current visit of Prime Minister and Mrs. Burnham to China will surely further promote the friendship and cooperation between the two governments and two peoples.

("Jen-min Jih-pao Editorial Warmly Welcomes Distinguished Guests from Guyana," NCNA-English, Peking, March 12, 1975 -- SPRCP 75-12/184-185)

Teng Hsiao-ping, Vice Premier:

Both China and Guyana are developing countries belonging to the third world. In the past, both our countries were victims of colonialist and imperialist aggression and oppression, and this common experience long ago linked our two peoples, who have always sympathized with and supported each other in struggle. Guyana is the first commonwealth country in the Caribbean area to establish diplomatic relations with China. Since the establishment of diplomatic relations between China and Guyana, the contacts between our two countries and the mutual understanding between our two peoples have steadily increased, and the friendly relations and cooperation between our two countries have developed satisfactorily. We are convinced that the visit of the honorable Prime Minister Burnham to China will carry the friendly relations between China and Guyana to a new stage and make a useful contribution to the cause of anti-imperialist unity of the third world countries and peoples in Asia, Africa, Latin America and elsewhere.

Korea

Jen-min Jih-pao Editorial:

The Chinese Communist Party and the Korean Workers' Party are fraternal Marxist-Leninist parties, China and Korea are close socialist neighbors, and the people of China and Korea are comrades-in-arms and members of the same family who have gone through hardships and tribulations together. Both in the past years of hard struggle and in the cause of socialist revolution and construction, the Korean people have given the Chinese people valuable support and assistance. In the course of their protracted common struggle, the Chinese and Korean peoples, fighting shoulder to shoulder, have cemented their revolutionary friendship and militant unity in blood, writing epics that move people to tears as well to song.

The great friendship between the peoples of China and Korea has been founded and fostered by the Chinese people's great leader Chairman Mao and the Korean people's great leader President Kim Il Sung themselves; it is built on the basis of the principles of Marxism-Leninism and proletarian internationalism and is indestructible. In line with Chairman Mao's teachings, the Chinese people will continue to enhance the great friendship between the two Parties, two countries and two peoples of China and Korea, and will always unite with the fraternal Korean people, fight by their side and be victorious together with them.

("Jen-min Jih-pao Editorial Warmly Welcomes President Kim Il Sung," NCNA-English, Peking, March 17, 1975 -- SPRCP 75-18/81-85)

Teng Hsiao-ping, CPC Central Committee Vice Chairman and Vice Premier:

The Chinese Communist Party and the Chinese government and people have consistently supported the Korean people in their struggle for the reunification of their fatherland, resolutely supported the principles and program advanced by President Kim Il Sung to attain this end and resolutely supported the Korean people's demand that the United States withdraw all its armed forces from South Korea so that the Korean people may resolve their own problems.

There is an especially profound revolutionary friendship between the Chinese and Korean Parties, our two countries and our two peoples. Our two countries, linked by common mountains and rivers, are fraternal neighbors as close as the lips to the teeth. Our two Parties and peoples are long-tested close comrades-in-arms sharing weal and woe. Our militant friendship and revolutionary unity is based on Marxism-Leninism and proletarian internationalism. It has been forged and fostered by the Chinese people's great leader Chairman Mao Tsetung and the Korean people's great leader President Kim Il Sung personally. It has grown in our long struggle against common enemies. And it is indestructible.

In the present situation, the further reinforcement of the militant friendship and great unity of our two Parties, countries and peoples is of utmost importance to the promotion of the socialist revolution and socialist construction in both our countries, to the strengthening of the third world peoples' cause of unity against imperialism and hegemonism and to the proletarian cause of communism. We believe that the current visit to China by President Kim Il Sung at the head of the Korean Party and government delegation will surely advance the relations between our two Parties and countries to a new stage. The Chinese people will forever stand together with the Korean people and together with you fight to the end for our common revolutionary cause.

Mexico

Chen Yung-kuei, Vice Premier:

Although China and Mexico are separated by oceans, we are both developing third world countries. Common experience in history closely links together our two peoples. Over a century ago, a large number of Chinese workers, working and living together with the Mexican people, sowed the seeds of friendship between the two countries. In the long struggle against imperialism and colonialism, our two peoples have always sympathized with and supported each other. What is most gratifying for us is that since the establishment of diplomatic relations between China and Mexico, and in particular since President and Mrs. Echeverria's visit to China, the relations of friendly cooperation between the two countries have been developing rapidly under new historical conditions. We have not only supported each other politically, but have also learned from and helped each other in the economic field. The relations of our two countries, based on the five principles of mutual respect for territorial integrity and sovereignty, mutual non-aggression, non-interference in each other's internal affairs, equality and mutual benefit, and peaceful co-existence, conform to the common aspirations and interests of our two peoples and encompass a broad prospect. We are fully convinced that with common effort by both sides, the flower of friendship between our two peoples is bound to bear copious fruits.

("Mexican President Fetes Chinese Vice Premier," NCNA-English, Mexico City, March 28, 1975 -- SPRCP 75-15/120-122)

Chen Yung-kuei, Vice Premier:

Through the visit, we have further realized that China and Mexico have many points in common although their social systems are different. We have a lot of things to do in developing the friendly cooperation between the two countries, especially in the exchange of agricultural sciences and technologies. We are deeply convinced that in our future common struggle to defend national independence and sovereignty, develop national economy and culture and oppose imperialism, colonialism and hegemonism, the traditional friendship between our two peoples and the relations of friendly cooperation between our two countries will surely be further consolidated and developed.

Morocco

Chiao Kuan-hua, Foreign Minister:

China and Morocco are both developing countries, belonging to the third world.... We consistently hold that to further consolidate and develop the friendly relations and cooperation between China and Morocco on the basis of the five principles of peaceful co-existence is not only in accord with the interests of the two countries but conducive to the third world's cause of unity against imperialism. We are convinced that Your Excellency's current visit will surely be a new contribution to the development of the Sino-Moroccan friendly relations and cooperation.

Singapore

Chiao Kuan-hua, Foreign Minister:

There are a profound traditional friendship and time-honored economic and cultural ties between the peoples of China and Singapore. In the common struggle against imperialism and colonialism, the Chinese people have enjoyed the deep sympathy and active support of the people of Singapore. In recent years the friendship between our two peoples has made new progress. Friendly exchanges between our two countries in trade, cultural and sports circles have steadily increased. The development of the friendly relations between our two countries accords with the common desires and interests of our two peoples.

Tunisia

Jen-min Jih-pao Editorial:

Both China and Tunisia are developing countries, belonging to the third world. Our two peoples have forged a profound friendship in the long struggle against imperialism and colonialism. Thanks to the joint efforts made by both sides, the friendly relations and cooperation between the two countries and the traditional friendship between the two peoples have made satisfactory progress in recent years. The current visit to China by Prime Minister Hedi Nouira will surely make a fresh contribution to the furtherance of the friendship between the Chinese and Tunisian peoples and the friendly relations and cooperation between the two countries.

Chang Chun-chiao, Vice Premier:

China and Tunisia, though separated by numerous mountains and waters, are both developing countries belonging to the third world. Our two countries had a similar historical lot in the past and are today linked by the common struggle against imperialism, colonialism and hegemonism. Premier Chou En-lai's visit to the Republic of Tunisia in 1964 opened a new page in the annals of the friendly relations between China and Tunisia. In recent years the friendly relations and cooperatin between our two countries have developed steadily and satisfactorily. We believe that His Excellency Prime Minister Nouira's current visit will surely make a new contribution to deepening our mutual understanding and trust, enhancing the friendship between our two peoples and developing the friendly relations and cooperation between our two countries.

Yemen (YAR and PDRY)

Chen Hsi-lien, Vice Premier:

Both China and the Yemn Arab Republic belong to the third world. We have always sympathized with and supported each other in the struggle against imperialism, colonialism and hegemonism. China and Yemen established diplomatic relations nineteen years ago. Since then, the friendly relations and cooperation between our two countries have steadily developed, and the friendship between our two peoples has continuously increased. The current visit to China by His Excellency Shawareb will surely make a valuable contribution to the furtherance of the mutual understanding and relations of friendly cooperation between our two countries.
